ROAR

A large, textured orange sculpture of a cougar or panther, set against a background of orange-toned foliage. The sculpture is the central focus, rendered in a monochromatic orange color that matches the background. It depicts the animal in a crouching, ready-to-pounce position, with its head turned slightly to the right. The texture of the sculpture appears to be made of many small, overlapping pieces, giving it a rough, almost stone-like appearance. The background is a soft-focus field of orange-toned plants and grasses, creating a cohesive color palette.
